Hot Topics in Modern and Personalized Pathology

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue, "Hot Topics in Modern and Personalized Pathology", collates state-of-the-art knowledge of modern advances in human pathology, including molecular and translational studies focusing on personalized diagnostics and tissue biomarkers. This Special Issue provides a platform for disseminating key opinions and research from leaders in the field through the timely publication of papers covering the latest developments and advances in pathology. For this Special Issue, we welcome high-quality original research focusing on the latest advances in disease diagnostics. prognosis, and treatment, including personalized diagnostics contributed to patient care, tumor diagnostics, tumor biomarkers, as well as studies reinforcing the evidence base of techniques in pathology such as immunohistochemistry, molecular and ultrastructural pathology. Manuscripts from different pathology and laboratory medicine areas are welcomed, especially those related to novel tissue diagnostic advances, molecular pathology, digital pathology, oncological pathology, and rare cancer studies.
