Deep Learning and Multimodal Large Language Models in Tumor/Cancer Diagnosis, Prediction and Prognosis

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue, entitled “Deep Learning and Multimodal Large Language Models in Tumor/Cancer Diagnosis, Prediction and Prognosis”, aims to delve into the transformative role of advanced computational techniques in revolutionizing oncology. It explores how deep learning algorithms and multimodal large language models are enhancing the precision of tumor detection, facilitating early diagnosis, and improving prediction for cancer progression. By showcasing cutting-edge research and real-world applications, this collection aims to illuminate the path forward in personalized medicine, ultimately contributing to better patient outcomes and advancing our understanding of complex oncological processes.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are cordially invited to submit research articles, short communications, comprehensive reviews, case reports or interesting images for consideration and publication in Diagnostics (ISSN 2075-4418). Diagnostics is published in open access format – research articles, reviews and other contents are released on the Internet immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited and free access to the content as soon as it is published. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Embase, Inspec, CAPIus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Medicine, General and Internal) / CiteScore - Q2 (Internal Medicine)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 21 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.6 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
