Liver Cancer Imaging

Message from the Guest Editor

Diagnostics will publish a Special Issue on 'Liver Cancer Imaging' in 2022 which will focus on current significant advances in knowledge regarding liver cancer imaging. Relevant topics include the advances in imaging based liver cancer diagnosis and differential diagnosis, treatment response assessment, evaluation of prognostic and biological behaviors, and other innovative clinical applications (such as the radiomics and artificial intelligence in liver cancer imaging). With regard to the types of clinical papers, reviews, and meta-analyses, original articles are welcome. Submitted manuscripts should significantly advance our knowledge about the clinical applications in liver cancer imaging.
