Molecular Pathology and Diagnostic Biomarkers of Gynaecological Cancers

Message from the Guest Editors

We are pleased to invite you to contribute research articles or reviews to our Special Issue, “Molecular Pathology and Diagnostic Biomarkers of Gynaecological Cancers.” Gynecological cancers remain a leading cause of mortality in women, and valid screening tools are still limited. While conventional treatments remain common, advances in targeted therapies have highlighted the importance of molecular pathology and biomarker-driven approaches in diagnosis, prognosis, and therapy selection. This Special Issue aims to explore methods, findings, and potential scoring systems for molecular biomarkers that support early diagnosis, risk stratification, treatment decision-making, and drug resistance prediction in gynecological malignancies. We welcome both original research and review articles in areas including (but not limited to):

- Prognostic risk stratification
- Early or differential diagnosis
- Targeted therapy
- Molecular classification

We look forward to your valuable contributions!

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are cordially invited to submit research articles, short communications, comprehensive reviews, case reports or interesting images for consideration and publication in Diagnostics (ISSN 2075-4418). Diagnostics is published in open access format – research articles, reviews and other contents are released on the Internet immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited and free access to the content as soon as it is published. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.
