Immune-Mediated Thrombosis: Mechanisms, Vaccine Association, and Therapeutic Innovations

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue aims to explore the immunopathological mechanisms, clinical presentations, and management approaches of immune-mediated thrombosis, especially in the context of vaccination. It seeks to foster interdisciplinary dialogue between immunologists, hematologists, and vaccine researchers. We welcome original research articles, reviews, short communications, and case studies on topics including, but not limited to:

- Pathophysiology of immune-mediated thrombosis
- Vaccine-induced immune thrombotic thrombocytopenia (VITT)
- Heparin-induced thrombocytopenia and related syndromes
- Biomarkers and diagnostic tools
- Immuno-hematological crosstalk
- Novel therapeutic targets and strategies
- Vaccine safety and adverse event monitoring
- Regulatory and pharmacovigilance perspectives
- Translational studies and clinical trials

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Diseases is an international, peer-reviewed, open access, multidisciplinary journal that focuses on the latest outstanding research concerning diseases and conditions. Research articles, reviews, and other contents are released on the Internet immediately after acceptance. This journal aims to cover international conferences and symposia as new targets.

Diseases is increasingly gaining acceptance and visibility within scholars, and after only a few years of life, Diseases is now also covering specific topics with dedicated special issues. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.
