Message from the Guest Editors

Leguminosae (Fabaceae), with nearly 20,000 species, is a remarkable example of flowering plants' evolutionary and ecological success. The broad geographic distribution range and diversity in morphology, life form, dispersal modes, interactions with animals, and soil bacteria of legumes is unique.

This Special Issue of Diversity is dedicated to "Legume Evolution and Diversity" and will feature a wide range of original research and review papers on the evolution and diversity of legumes. We invite and welcome submissions to contribute to our understanding of this interesting plant group.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Diversity (ISSN 1424-2818) is a scholarly journal that covers all areas of diversity research. Our distinguished editorial board and refereeing process ensures the highest degree of scientific rigor for publishing. Original research articles and timely reviews are released online, with unlimited free access.

We invite papers and reviews on multidisciplinary topics of diversity that bridge organismic diversity (systematics, biodiversity, phylogeny, population genetics, and evolution) and molecular diversity (phytochemistry and biophysics).

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubAg, GEOBASE, CAPus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Biodiversity Conservation) / CiteScore - Q2 (Agricultural and Biological Sciences (miscellaneous))
