Feature Papers for Drones in Ecology Section

Message from the Guest Editor

As Section Editor-in-Chief, I am pleased to announce a Special Issue entitled “Feature Papers for Section Drones in Ecology”. This Special Issue welcomes high-quality papers from the general ecology and applied conservation community, including but not limited to forest, freshwater, and marine ecologists, wildlife and conservation biologists, land-use and land-cover experts, and sustainability science researchers who use drone-borne sensors ranging from small and low-cost systems with single sensors to complex multi-sensor fusion platforms. Manuscripts can be theoretical, applied, or review articles. Interdisciplinary manuscripts are particularly welcome. For more scope information, you may check

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Drones is an international open access journal focusing on advancing research in drone science, policy, technology, and applications. Today, drones have become indispensable for policymakers, regulatory authorities, mapping agencies, start-ups, and established firms. Their expanding societal and economic relevance is reflected in the rapid development of new sensors, upgraded platforms, specialized software, and novel applications. The journal provides a central forum for scholars in drone research and applications to exchange findings and innovations. With growing demand for high-quality research, our Editorial Board comprises international leaders and experts across relevant scientific areas. We offer rigorous peer review and rapid publication of papers from across all areas of drone science. We welcome you to submit your next paper to Drones and to contribute to the continued advancement of and innovations in the field of drones.
