

Globalization and Inequality

Guest Editor:

Prof. Dr. Devashish Mitra

The Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs,
Syracuse University, Syracuse, NY
13244, USA

Deadline for manuscript
submissions:

closed (30 June 2015)

Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

The special issue will cover the impact on inequality of all aspects of economic globalization, such as international trade (including offshoring), and international mobility of labor and capital. A broad view of inequality will be taken in that papers on the impact of globalization on general income inequality, wage inequality, employment and unemployment and the quality of employment will be eligible for consideration. We welcome the submission of articles based on original theoretical and/or empirical research, analytical survey papers and policy-oriented think pieces.

Prof. Dr. Devashish Mitra

Guest Editor

