10th Anniversary of Electronics: Recent Advances in Microelectronics and Optoelectronics

Message from the Guest Editors

It has now been ten years since the first paper was published in Electronics back in 2011. It has been a rocky road with many highs and lows, but we are extremely proud to have reached this very important milestone of the 10th anniversary of the journal. To celebrate this momentous occasion, a Special Issue is being prepared which invites both members of the Editorial Board and outstanding renowned authors, including past editors and authors, to submit a paper on the subject of Microelectronics and Optoelectronics. Topics of interest include but are not limited to:

- Micro/nanoscale electronic and optoelectronic materials and devices;
- Electronic and optical properties of semiconductor, inorganic, organic, and hybrid nanostructures;
- Optoelectronic and photonic applications of novel materials and nanostructures;
- Micro/Nanoelectronic circuit and device integration;
- Micro/Nanofabrication, processing and characterization techniques;
- Electronic applications of superlattices, quantum structures, and other nanostructures;
- Information processing and optical communications.

We look forward to receiving your submission to publicise your outstanding achievements.
