

Special Issue

Power Delivery Technologies

Message from the Guest Editors

In this Special Issue, original research articles and reviews are welcome. Research areas may include (but are not limited to) the following:

- Long distance, efficient and reliable power delivery technologies.
- Power electronic apparatus for transmission and distribution
- New and innovative power-generation technologies;
- Cyber-physical systems, cyber-security and power system security
- Power quality technology to ensure the stability and reliability of power supply.
- Power system control, stability, modeling, computation, and optimization;
- Quality of supply, reliability and condition monitoring;
- Developments in power system measurement and instrumentation
- Demand side management technology to ensure efficient utilization of power resources.

We look forward to receiving your contributions.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Electronics is a multidisciplinary journal designed to appeal to a diverse audience of research scientists, practitioners, and developers in academia and industry. The journal is devoted to fast publication of latest technological breakthroughs, cutting-edge developments, and timely reviews of current and emerging technologies related to the broad field of electronics. Experimental and theoretical results are published as regular peer-reviewed articles or as articles within Special Issues guest-edited by leading experts in selected topics of interest.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), CAPlus /
SciFinder, Inspec, Ei Compendex and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Engineering, Electrical and Electronic) /
CiteScore - Q1 (Electrical and Electronic Engineering)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 16.8 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.4 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
