Intelligent Transportation Systems: Current Challenges and Future Directions

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to exhibit and discuss current challenges as well as state-of-the-art technological developments and future directions in the theory, analysis, simulation, design, and optimization of transportation systems. Both original research articles and comprehensive reviews are welcome. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to, the following: Regulation, standardization, and management in ITS; Advanced sensing and wireless technologies for ITS; Vehicle-to-everything (V2X) communications in ITS; Vehicle localization, object tracking, and navigation; Machine learning and artificial intelligence-based techniques for ITS;

Green and sustainable solutions for ITS. For more details: <https://www.mdpi.com/si/151253>

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Electronics is a multidisciplinary journal designed to appeal to a diverse audience of research scientists, practitioners, and developers in academia and industry. The journal is devoted to fast publication of latest technological breakthroughs, cutting-edge developments, and timely reviews of current and emerging technologies related to the broad field of electronics. Experimental and theoretical results are published as regular peer-reviewed articles or as articles within Special Issues guest-edited by leading experts in selected topics of interest.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), CAPlus /
SciFinder, Inspec, Ei Compendex and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Engineering, Electrical and Electronic) /
CiteScore - Q1 (Electrical and Electronic Engineering)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 16.8 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.4 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
