Intelligent Computing and System Integration

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue welcomes theoretical and practical contributions focusing on innovative algorithms, models, and frameworks that enhance intelligent computing and system integration. We are particularly interested in research that addresses challenges in scalability, real-time performance, and reliability in integrated systems. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Advanced artificial intelligence methods for system integration.
- Machine learning algorithms for real-time decision-making.
- Optimization techniques in multi-system coordination.
- Applications of intelligent computing in healthcare, smart cities, eco-driving, and industrial automation.
- Interdisciplinary approaches to bridging computing and physical systems.

We also encourage submissions that demonstrate the integration of intelligent computing with emerging technologies, such as the Internet of Things (IoT), edge computing, Internet of Vehicles (IoV), computer vision, pattern recognition, and cyber-physical systems.
