Electronic Solutions for Artificial Intelligence Healthcare Volume II

Message from the Guest Editor

Currently, healthcare and bioelectronics in artificial intelligence are becoming more and more complex and sophisticated faster than ever before. In this SI, we aim to start a discussion about a basic convergent study that would contribute to humanity by respecting human beings and their lives, while aiding and serving neglected or isolated people. It is open to receiving a variety of meaningful and valuable manuscripts concerning the purpose of solving the healthcare issue based on electronic solutions. Subjects are listed below, but not limited to: > Electronic service respecting human beings and their lives; > Electronic solutions to artificial intelligence and Big Data; > Means of aiding and serving neglected people like the disabled or elderly; > Electronic engineering mathematical theories that deeply affect science and industry; > Intelligent media techniques and services for systems engineering; > Intelligent Security/Blockchain techniques and services for improved systems engineering; > A public electronic engineering integration system for the future systems;
