Special Issue

Data Retrieval and Data Mining

Message from the Guest Editors

The Special Issue "Data Retrieval and Data Mining" is planned to collect some most recent research work in these two fields, including information retrieval (by which we will quickly find relevant documents, records, graphs, or images), web scraping (by which we will extract data from websites, or data streams), data harvesting (by which we will gather specific data from various sources, either homogenous or heterogenous), as well as data selecting (by which we will choose and sieve relevant data), data cleaning (by which we will preprocess and clean data for certain purposes), data transformation (by which we will change data into a suitable format for further treatment) and data mining (by which we will evaluate patterns and derive values).

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Electronics is a multidisciplinary journal designed to appeal to a diverse audience of research scientists, practitioners, and developers in academia and industry. The journal is devoted to fast publication of latest technological breakthroughs, cutting-edge developments, and timely reviews of current and emerging technologies related to the broad field of electronics. Experimental and theoretical results are published as regular peer-reviewed articles or as articles within Special Issues guest-edited by leading experts in selected topics of interest.

Editor-in-Chief

Author Benefits

High Visibility:
indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), CAPlus / SciFinder, Inspec, Ei Compendex and other databases.

Journal Rank:
JCR - Q2 (Engineering, Electrical and Electronic) / CiteScore - Q1 (Electrical and Electronic Engineering)

Rapid Publication:
manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 16.8 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.4 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
