Special Issue

Applications of Artificial Intelligence for Health

Message from the Guest Editors

In this Special Issue, we are interested in incorporating the latest advances in the application of artificial intelligence to the world of health. The works that will have a place in this issue will be both those focused on the health systems themselves, as well as the techniques from artificial intelligence that are applied to health, such as deep learning, generative adversarial networks, digital twins, and others related solutions. Similarly, the techniques for incorporating health data, which address aspects such as quality, safety, interoperability, techniques to incorporate missing values, etc. are welcome for submission. About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Electronics is a multidisciplinary journal designed to appeal to a diverse audience of research scientists, practitioners, and developers in academia and industry. The journal is devoted to fast publication of latest technological breakthroughs, cutting-edge developments, and timely reviews of current and emerging technologies related to the broad field of electronics. Experimental and theoretical results are published as regular peer-reviewed articles or as articles within Special Issues guestedited by leading experts in selected topics of interest.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), CAPlus / SciFinder, Inspec, Ei Compendex and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Engineering, Electrical and Electronic) / CiteScore - Q1 (Electrical and Electronic Engineering)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 16.8 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.4 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
