Pulsed Magnetic Fields and Its Applications

Message from the Guest Editors

The purpose of this Special Issue is to provide an open platform for scholars to share their latest progress in the generation, diagnosis, and applications of pulsed magnetic fields. Potential submission topics include but are not limited to the following:

- Advanced pulsed magnet technology, including the destructive and non-destructive approaches;
- High accuracy and low-cost diagnosis methods for pulsed magnetic fields;
- High-efficiency analytical/numerical modeling methods for pulsed magnetic fields;
- New insight into the pulsed magnetic field-related phenomena;
- Applications of pulsed magnetic fields I: Utilization on the force effect, such as metal working;
- Applications of pulsed magnetic fields II: Utilization on the magnetization effect;
- Applications of pulsed magnetic fields III: Utilization on other effects;
- Other interesting magnetic field phenomena and its applications.
