

Special Issue

Generative AI and Its Transformative Potential

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue invites researchers and practitioners from the field of artificial intelligence and related disciplines to contribute their original and unpublished work on generative AI and its creative capabilities. The issue seeks to address key challenges and explore new implementations of generative AI in various areas, including, but not limited to, creative applications, data synthesis and augmentation, autonomous systems, healthcare and medical equipment. Keywords:

- artificial intelligence
- generative models
- computational intelligence
- machine learning
- neural networks
- deep learning
- innovation
- automation
- data synthesis
- generative adversarial networks (GANs)

We look forward to receiving your contributions.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Electronics is a multidisciplinary journal designed to appeal to a diverse audience of research scientists, practitioners, and developers in academia and industry. The journal is devoted to fast publication of latest technological breakthroughs, cutting-edge developments, and timely reviews of current and emerging technologies related to the broad field of electronics. Experimental and theoretical results are published as regular peer-reviewed articles or as articles within Special Issues guestedited by leading experts in selected topics of interest.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), CAPlus /
SciFinder, Inspec, Ei Compendex and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Engineering, Electrical and Electronic) /
CiteScore - Q1 (Electrical and Electronic Engineering)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 16.4 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.6 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2025).
