Advances in Human-Computer Interaction: Challenges and Opportunities

Message from the Guest Editors

Considering the growing popularity of interactive technologies around the world, Electronics is welcoming submissions for a Special Issue that aims to investigate the interaction between human elements and computing technologies and the associated opportunities and challenges. In this Special Issue, we welcome original research articles and survey articles that present human-centric/user studies, development processes, and the successes, failures and challenges related to technological interventions. This Special Issue seeks multi-disciplinary research articles that address design, technology, education and health, etc.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Electronics is a multidisciplinary journal designed to appeal to a diverse audience of research scientists, practitioners, and developers in academia and industry. The journal is devoted to fast publication of latest technological breakthroughs, cutting-edge developments, and timely reviews of current and emerging technologies related to the broad field of electronics. Experimental and theoretical results are published as regular peer-reviewed articles or as articles within Special Issues guest-edited by leading experts in selected topics of interest.
