Wireless Communications Channel

Message from the Guest Editors

The Special Issue (Wireless Communications Channel) is intended to publish full papers and shorter communications on original contributions within the physical layer of wireless communication. Specifically, the issue focuses on channel measurements, properties, modeling, and their application in different communication scenarios, including wireless, mobile, satellite, and telecommunications. Emphasis is placed on research that links the fundamental theories on the propagation of electromagnetic waves through space, air, and other media to the measured properties and/or proposed models. The issue also extends its coverage to the impact of the wireless channel in the design and application of antenna and signal processing algorithms.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Electronics is a multidisciplinary journal designed to appeal to a diverse audience of research scientists, practitioners, and developers in academia and industry. The journal is devoted to fast publication of latest technological breakthroughs, cutting-edge developments, and timely reviews of current and emerging technologies related to the broad field of electronics. Experimental and theoretical results are published as regular peer-reviewed articles or as articles within Special Issues guest-edited by leading experts in selected topics of interest.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), CAPus /
SciFinder, Inspec, Ei Compendex and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Engineering, Electrical and Electronic) /
CiteScore - Q1 (Electrical and Electronic Engineering)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 16.8 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.4 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
