

Special Issue

Sustainable Transportation Systems

Message from the Guest Editors

The purpose of this Special Issue is to gather and disseminate high-quality research that addresses the multifaceted challenges and opportunities in sustainable transportation. By highlighting cutting-edge developments, evaluating the impact of current policies, and proposing new strategies, the Issue aims to drive forward the agenda of sustainable, safe, and efficient transportation systems. It seeks to encourage the adoption of best practices, promote innovative solutions, and support the creation of more resilient and inclusive transportation networks. This Special Issue seeks to contribute to the ongoing dialog surrounding sustainable transportation by presenting high-quality research and practical insights that can guide future advancements in the field. Through this collection, we aim to inspire innovative approaches and collaborative efforts towards creating sustainable, safe, and efficient transportation systems for all.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Electronics is a multidisciplinary journal designed to appeal to a diverse audience of research scientists, practitioners, and developers in academia and industry. The journal is devoted to fast publication of latest technological breakthroughs, cutting-edge developments, and timely reviews of current and emerging technologies related to the broad field of electronics. Experimental and theoretical results are published as regular peer-reviewed articles or as articles within Special Issues guest-edited by leading experts in selected topics of interest.
