Data-Driven Intelligent Technologies for Smart Cities

Message from the Guest Editors

Papers within this Special Issue should focus on challenges, limitations, opportunities and potential impact for smart cities from practical, experimental or theoretical perspectives. The topic Papers describing mitigation strategies concerning challenges and limitations related to smart cities are also for submission. The topics of the Special Issue include, but are not limited to:

- smart city
- data mining
- machine learning
- intelligent system
- data-driven decision
- knowledge discovery

Welcome to contribute.
