

Special Issue

Circuits and Systems of Security Applications

Message from the Guest Editor

Hardware security is a major area of investigation because it can deliver significant benefits at the device level, such as robust, tamper-resistant storage of keys, integrated cryptographic primitives, secure communication between devices, protection against both virtual and physical attacks, authorization and authentication between the devices, and many others. So, this Special Issue provides an opportunity to present new results from both the research and industry communities. We invite you to submit high quality papers to this Special Issue on “Circuits and Systems of Security Applications”, with subjects covering all aspects of embedded, HW/SW design and VLSI implementations. Welcome to contribute!

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Electronics is a multidisciplinary journal designed to appeal to a diverse audience of research scientists, practitioners, and developers in academia and industry. The journal is devoted to fast publication of latest technological breakthroughs, cutting-edge developments, and timely reviews of current and emerging technologies related to the broad field of electronics. Experimental and theoretical results are published as regular peer-reviewed articles or as articles within Special Issues guestedited by leading experts in selected topics of interest.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), CAPlus / SciFinder, Inspec, Ei Compendex and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Engineering, Electrical and Electronic) /
CiteScore - Q1 (Electrical and Electronic Engineering)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 16.4 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.6 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2025).
