

Special Issue

Engineering for Turbomachinery

Message from the Guest Editor

The special issue of Engineering for Turbomachinery for Journal of Energies publishes archival-quality, peer-reviewed original technical papers that advance the state-of-the-art of engineering for turbomachinery. Contributions to the journal emphasize advances with investigative techniques, including new developments in analytical, computational, and experimental methods, and physical interpretation of results to enhance knowledge and understanding of power generation and propulsion systems. The broad scope of the subject matter includes the aerodynamics, heat transfer, combustion and structure dynamics associated with the gas and steam turbines, aircraft engines, internal combustion engines, and power generation.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Energies is an international, open access journal in energy engineering and research. The journal publishes original papers, review articles, technical notes, and letters. Authors are encouraged to submit manuscripts which bridge the gaps between research, development and implementation. The journal provides a forum for information on research, innovation, and demonstration in the areas of energy conversion and conservation, the optimal use of energy resources, optimization of energy processes, mitigation of environmental pollutants, and sustainable energy systems.
