

Special Issue

The Energy and Environmental Implications of Smart Cities

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to understand to what extent previous smart city initiatives have been able to simultaneously improve the energy and environmental performance of cities, and more importantly, how this can be further enhanced in future smart city developments. We would like to invite you to submit research, review, and case study papers on (but not limited to) the following topics:

- energy planning
- smart city
- energy efficiency
- environment
- technology
- urban planning
- smart mobility
- SDGs

It is recommended to send a tentative title and a short summary of the manuscript to Energies Editor Ms. Freya Fan .

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Energies is an international, open access journal in energy engineering and research. The journal publishes original papers, review articles, technical notes, and letters. Authors are encouraged to submit manuscripts which bridge the gaps between research, development and implementation. The journal provides a forum for information on research, innovation, and demonstration in the areas of energy conversion and conservation, the optimal use of energy resources, optimization of energy processes, mitigation of environmental pollutants, and sustainable energy systems.
