

Special Issue

Innovative Active and Passive Energy Systems for Energy Efficiency and Sustainable Urban Residential Development

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to gather new research findings, case studies, and best practices which use active and passive energy systems with the aim of lowering building energy demands while also reducing buildings' environmental impact, concurrently increasing occupant thermal comfort and indoor air quality, with a focus on the residential sector.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Energies is an international, open access journal in energy engineering and research. The journal publishes original papers, review articles, technical notes, and letters. Authors are encouraged to submit manuscripts which bridge the gaps between research, development and implementation. The journal provides a forum for information on research, innovation, and demonstration in the areas of energy conversion and conservation, the optimal use of energy resources, optimization of energy processes, mitigation of environmental pollutants, and sustainable energy systems.

Editor-in-Chief

Prof. Dr. Enrico Sciubba
Department of Mechanical and Industrial Engineering, University
