

Special Issue

Energy and Power in Environmental Systems

Message from the Guest Editors

The 12th Biennial Emergy Research Conference, which will be held in January 2025 at the University of Florida in Gainesville, FL, USA

(<https://www.emergysociety.com/emergy-synthesis-12/>), continues the dissemination about the Emergy Accounting method, introduced by the ecologist Howard T. Odum in the 1970s. This Special Issue welcomes works evaluating energy and technological systems by means of Emergy Accounting from authors participating in the 12th Biennial Emergy Research Conference, or those who are not participating but share similar perspectives and vision. Calls for original research and/or review articles on the topic of Emergy Accounting as well as, but not limited to, the following are open: Evaluations of energy and/or techno-industrial processes assessed by means of Emergy Accounting; Mixed methods or method integration (e.g., integration LCA/Emergy) applied to energy and technology-based systems; Emergy Accounting of renewable energy systems.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Energies is an international, open access journal in energy engineering and research. The journal publishes original papers, review articles, technical notes, and letters. Authors are encouraged to submit manuscripts which bridge the gaps between research, development and implementation. The journal provides a forum for information on research, innovation, and demonstration in the areas of energy conversion and conservation, the optimal use of energy resources, optimization of energy processes, mitigation of environmental pollutants, and sustainable energy systems.

Author Benefits

Open Access:

free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Ei Compendex, RePEc, Inspec, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

CiteScore - Q1 (Control and Optimization)
