

Special Issue

Smart Technologies in the Management and Development of Cities and Business

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to group all the possibilities for using ICT and different intelligent tools in Smart Cities Development Management. These include, in particular but not exclusively:

- Smart technologies in the energy industry;
- Sustainable development of the energy industry;
- Intelligent technologies in smart city management;
- The impact of the pandemic on the transformation of ICT technologies used in business and smart city;
- Artificial intelligence in business processes;
- Internet of Things in Smart City management;
- Three-dimensional urban development planning;
- The use of GIS technology in planning development and investments in Smart Cities;
- Regional Business Spatial Community;
- Industry 4.0 solutions in the energy industry;
- Sustainable development of a smart city;
- Development of renewable energy information systems;
- Business models for Smart Cities;
- Open data initiatives for Smart Cities.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Energies is an international, open access journal in energy engineering and research. The journal publishes original papers, review articles, technical notes, and letters. Authors are encouraged to submit manuscripts which bridge the gaps between research, development and implementation. The journal provides a forum for information on research, innovation, and demonstration in the areas of energy conversion and conservation, the optimal use of energy resources, optimization of energy processes, mitigation of environmental pollutants, and sustainable energy systems.

Editor-in-Chief
