

Special Issue

Novel Thin Film Solar Cell Devices

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue is aimed at experimental physicists, electronic engineers, material scientists and chemists. It covers issues related to the recent progress in renewable energy, solar cells, optical and electrical properties of novel materials and devices. It is very useful and interesting to researchers to have access to state-of-the-art overviews of methods, results and applications in the field of science and technology of renewable energy and its related materials and devices.

- new material
- new device structure
- new transport mechanism
- defect passivation
- high efficiency

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Energies is an international, open access journal in energy engineering and research. The journal publishes original papers, review articles, technical notes, and letters. Authors are encouraged to submit manuscripts which bridge the gaps between research, development and implementation. The journal provides a forum for information on research, innovation, and demonstration in the areas of energy conversion and conservation, the optimal use of energy resources, optimization of energy processes, mitigation of environmental pollutants, and sustainable energy systems.

Editor-in-Chief

Prof. Dr. Enrico Sciubba

Department of Mechanical and Industrial Engineering, University
Niccolò Cusano, 00166 Roma, Italy

Author Benefits

Open Access:

free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Ei Compendex, RePEc, Inspec, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

CiteScore - Q1 (Control and Optimization)
