

Special Issue

Numerical Computations in Modeling, Analysis and Optimization of Energy Conversion in Electromagnetic Devices, Electrical Machines and Drives

Message from the Guest Editors

Contributions submitted to the Special Issue can be dedicated to the application of the field models in analysis and design of existing and new constructions of electromagnetic energy conversion systems (the transformers, electrical machines, and drives) and their industrial applications as well as latest developments of drive systems and their control methods. The proposed techniques and methods should be innovative and significant for the community interested in electrical engineering. We are strongly pleased to invite you to publish your latest developments in discussed fields. Contributing in this Special Issue will enhance the visibility of your research and achievements.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Energies is an international, open access journal in energy engineering and research. The journal publishes original papers, review articles, technical notes, and letters. Authors are encouraged to submit manuscripts which bridge the gaps between research, development and implementation. The journal provides a forum for information on research, innovation, and demonstration in the areas of energy conversion and conservation, the optimal use of energy resources, optimization of energy processes, mitigation of environmental pollutants, and sustainable energy systems.

Author Benefits

Open Access:

free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Ei Compendex, RePEc, Inspec, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

CiteScore - Q1 (Control and Optimization)
