Power Electronic Converters: Control and Applications

Message from the Guest Editor

The is inviting submissions to a Special Issue of Energies on “Power Electronic Converters: Control and Applications”. Nowadays, the smart and efficient use of energy systems is not only a challenge but also a requirement, and power electronic converters play a key role in ensuring the success of power and energy applications. This Special Issue is intended for existing and emerging control techniques applied on power systems and renewable energy systems and is of interest to power and energy researchers.

- Power electronics;
- Control methods of power electronics;
- Scalar and vector control;
- Multilevel converters topologies and control;
- Fault tolerant converters;
- Ride-through capability;
- Development using RCP/HIL/PHIL systems;
- PV, wind and ocean wave energy systems;
- Electric vehicles;
- Grid connected power systems;
- Variable speed drives;
- Three-phase and five-phase motor control;
- Utility-scale and industrial applications;
- FACTS and HVDC;
- Distributed generation

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Energies is an international, open access journal in energy engineering and research. The journal publishes original papers, review articles, technical notes, and letters. Authors are encouraged to submit manuscripts which bridge the gaps between research, development and implementation. The journal provides a forum for information on research, innovation, and demonstration in the areas of energy conversion and conservation, the optimal use of energy resources, optimization of energy processes, mitigation of environmental pollutants, and sustainable energy systems.

Author Benefits

Open Access:

free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Ei Compendex, RePEc, Inspec, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

CiteScore - Q1 (Control and Optimization)
