Special Issue

Sources and Markets of Coal, Oil, Gas, and Renewable Energy

Message from the Guest Editor

The purpose of this Special Issue, entitled "Sources and Markets for Coal, Oil, Gas, and Renewable Energy", by the international journal Energies (IF = 2.702; Cite Score: 3.8) is to explore current and future changes in the primary energy carrier supply and demand, including renewables, and consequent changes in the markets. We await original articles analyzing current and future market conditions, their impact on the primary and final energy mix, and the current and future consequences for mining industries, from both a global and local perspective.

- resources and reserves of fossil fuels (coal, oil, gas)
- demand and supply for primary energy sources
- coal, oil, and gas markets
- renewable energy sources and technologies

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Energies is an international, open access journal in energy engineering and research. The journal publishes original papers, review articles, technical notes, and letters. Authors are encouraged to submit manuscripts which bridge the gaps between research, development and implementation. The journal provides a forum for information on research, innovation, and demonstration in the areas of energy conversion and conservation, the optimal use of energy resources, optimization of energy processes, mitigation of environmental pollutants, and sustainable energy systems.
