Energy Economics: Global Trends in Technology and Policy—2nd Edition

Message from the Guest Editors

The 2025 Laufer Energy Symposium (<https://lauferenergy.mst.edu/>) will be held from 7th to 9th May, 2025, in Marrakech, Morocco. The focus of this symposium will be on global trends in technology and policy, garnering leading experts to discuss the development of resilient energy systems that optimize systemic security, supply, sufficiency, and sustainability. Papers submitted to this Special Issue will focus on integrated energy systems that enhance energy economics, unconventional fuels used to modify our current energy supply, novel ways to improve the economic performance of renewable energy, and key policies that affect energy production and utilization.

Keywords:

- resilient energy
- climate change
- nuclear fusion
- bio-energy
- biofuels
- renewable energy

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Energies is an international, open access journal in energy engineering and research. The journal publishes original papers, review articles, technical notes, and letters. Authors are encouraged to submit manuscripts which bridge the gaps between research, development and implementation. The journal provides a forum for information on research, innovation, and demonstration in the areas of energy conversion and conservation, the optimal use of energy resources, optimization of energy processes, mitigation of environmental pollutants, and sustainable energy systems.
