

Special Issue

Big Data on Energy, Climate Change and Sustainability

Message from the Guest Editors

We invite you to submit your original research or review-based works to this Special Issue on “Big Data on Energy, Climate Change and Sustainability” in Energies. In this Special Issue, we welcome contributions within the general area integrating big data, artificial intelligence, climate change, and sustainability. The topics of interest include but are not limited to the following:

- Big data analytics in building climate resilient supply chains;
- Big data analytics and artificial intelligence in sustainable operations management practices;
- Information sharing and technology adoption in sustainable operations;
- Big data analytics in disaster relief operations resulting due to climate change;
- Big data analytics, artificial intelligence, and social sustainability;

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Energies is an international, open access journal in energy engineering and research. The journal publishes original papers, review articles, technical notes, and letters. Authors are encouraged to submit manuscripts which bridge the gaps between research, development and implementation. The journal provides a forum for information on research, innovation, and demonstration in the areas of energy conversion and conservation, the optimal use of energy resources, optimization of energy processes, mitigation of environmental pollutants, and sustainable energy systems.
