

Special Issue

Energy Efficient Building Design 2016

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue serves to provide a platform for academia and industry practitioners to share their latest research and practices in the area of energy efficient building design. Though the focus is on buildings, it can also cover the urban and infrastructure environment with a specific interest in the interplay between the urban environment and buildings. Submissions relating to any of the following topics are welcomed:

- Advanced Green Building Systems
- Passive Green Building Design
- Zero Energy and Zero Carbon Building Design
- Use of Renewable Energy sources for Building Design
- Smart, Sustainable and Resilient Urban Planning and Cities
- Sustainable Design and for Comfort, Health and Well-being

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Energies is an international, open access journal in energy engineering and research. The journal publishes original papers, review articles, technical notes, and letters. Authors are encouraged to submit manuscripts which bridge the gaps between research, development and implementation. The journal provides a forum for information on research, innovation, and demonstration in the areas of energy conversion and conservation, the optimal use of energy resources, optimization of energy processes, mitigation of environmental pollutants, and sustainable energy systems.

Editor-in-Chief
