

Special Issue

Energy Transition and Social Innovation

Message from the Guest Editors

We are inviting submissions to a Special Issue of Energies on the subject of “Energy Transition and Social Innovation towards Renewables”. Topics of interest for publication include, but are not limited to:

- Interest, motivation, and value in energy transition;
- Energy transition and new social ontology;
- Energy as commons and shared property;
- Social innovation in the frame of energy technical apparatuses;
- The agentic actors of social innovation in the energy field;
- Collective action for energy transition;
 - Social innovation as a collective action endeavor;
 - Historical and spatial comparative analysis of energy cooperatives;
 - Institutional logics and energy communities;
 - Collective action and social practices for energy prosumption.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Energies is an international, open access journal in energy engineering and research. The journal publishes original papers, review articles, technical notes, and letters. Authors are encouraged to submit manuscripts which bridge the gaps between research, development and implementation. The journal provides a forum for information on research, innovation, and demonstration in the areas of energy conversion and conservation, the optimal use of energy resources, optimization of energy processes, mitigation of environmental pollutants, and sustainable energy systems.
