

Special Issue

Fibres and Textiles: Innovations, Engineering, and Sustainability—in Memory of Professor Izabella Krucińska (1953–2023)

Message from the Guest Editors

We extend a warm invitation to contribute to our Special Issue, which focuses on the dynamic field of advancement in fibres and textiles engineering and sustainability. We endeavor to create a platform for the global scientific community to freely exchange ideas and present their achievements in these areas.

Committing to upholding rigorous scientific standards, we have assembled a panel of experts to evaluate submissions, ensuring the dissemination of your current and cross-sectional studies. Our Special Issue encompasses various topics, from fibre science and technology, manufacturing processes, textile composite and nanomaterials, functional and technical textiles, and the circular economy in the textile industry and beyond. Particular Statement: This Special Issue is dedicated to the memory of Professor Izabella Krucińska, former Editorial Board Member of Eng, who passed away on 28 May 2023 (1953–2023). We would like to cordially invite you to submit your work in memory of Professor Krucińska's heritage.
