Adding Value to Agro-Forest and Industrial Wastes by Bioethanol Production: A Contribution to Circular Economy

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue “Adding value to agro-forest and industrial wastes by bioethanol production” will focus on different feedstocks, on pretreatments and hydrolyses for releasing simple sugars, on different applied microorganisms and on different configurations for ethanol fermentation processes. As you probably know, the journal Fermentation (ISSN2311-5637) has been accepted for inclusion in the Science Citation Index Expanded (SCIE), and it would have a first projected Impact Factor around 4.0 this June 2021. For us would be a pleasure to count on a review or research article on this topic from your team, and you will be waived with 50% of the APCs (Article processing charges) of this Open Access journal (current APCs 1400 CHF Swiss Francs). Please note that for papers submitted after 30 June 2021 an APC of 1600 CHF applies. The submission deadline is 31 October 2021, if you need more time you can contact the Managing Editor Sherry Duan (sherry.duan@mdpi.com) directly.
