Selected Papers From the “International Coffee Convention 2023”

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to present selected papers from the Proceedings of the International Coffee Convention 2023 \(ICC2023\), held on 30 Sep–3 Oct 2023, Mannheim, Germany. This Special Issue will showcase the latest research and developments in the field of coffee science, with a particular focus on sustainability. We invite original research articles, review papers, and perspectives that cover a broad range of topics related to coffee production, processing, analysis, and sustainability. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to:

- Coffee chemistry and biochemistry;
- Analytical methods for coffee quality assessment;
- Coffee processing and roasting technologies;
- Sustainability of coffee production and processing;
- Environmental and social impacts of coffee production and consumption;
- Innovative approaches for reducing coffee waste and byproducts;
- Digitalization and technology for coffee value chain management.

We welcome contributions from researchers, academics, industry professionals, and other experts in the field. Manuscripts will undergo rigorous peer review, and only those of the highest quality will be accepted for publication.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Foods (ISSN 2304-8158) is an open access and peer reviewed scientific journal that publishes original articles, critical reviews, case reports, and short communications on food science. Articles are released monthly online, with unlimited free access. Currently, Foods has been indexed by the Science Citation Index Expanded (SCIE - Web of Science), PubMed, and Scopus. Our aim is to encourage scientists, researchers, and other food professionals to publish their experimental and theoretical results as much detail as possible. We therefore invite you to be one of our authors, and in doing so share your important research findings with the global food science community.
