Advancements in Acrylamide Research: Food Formation, Analysis, and Exposure

Message from the Guest Editors

Following the significant impact of the first volume of the Special Issue "New Frontiers in Acrylamide Study in Foods: Formation, Analysis and Exposure Assessment", we are pleased to announce the launch of a second volume. We aim to gather cutting-edge research and novel insights into acrylamide in foods. We welcome contributions that explore the chemistry of acrylamide formation and elimination; new sources of dietary exposure; effective mitigation strategies; rapid monitoring techniques; risk/benefit approaches; exposure assessment; biomonitoring and biomarkers; bioaccessibility, bioavailability and metabolism; microbial impact; or any other research that enhances our understanding for this process contaminant and its dietary exposure.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Foods (ISSN 2304-8158) is an open access and peer reviewed scientific journal that publishes original articles, critical reviews, case reports, and short communications on food science. Articles are released monthly online, with unlimited free access. Currently, Foods has been indexed by the Science Citation Index Expanded (SCIE - Web of Science), PubMed, and Scopus. Our aim is to encourage scientists, researchers, and other food professionals to publish their experimental and theoretical results as much detail as possible. We therefore invite you to be one of our authors, and in doing so share your important research findings with the global food science community.
