Food Bioactive Compounds as Functional Ingredient

Message from the Guest Editors

Functional foods containing bioactive compounds showed the potential for preventive and therapeutic treatment of nutrients. The research of bioactive compounds is evolving into a high-level data-driven field by introducing a variety of advanced techniques. This Special Issue is designed to invite researches on recent advances in bioactive compounds related to nutrigenomics, metabolic syndromes, obesity, type 2 diabetes mellitus, dyslipidemia. Ultimately, this Special Issue aims to provide the most trustworthy information of the latest bioactive compounds not only to food scientists and nutritionists but also to experts in the discovery of new therapeutic drugs. Hopefully, leading scientists in these fields will be able to engage actively with creative results.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Foods (ISSN 2304-8158) is an open access and peer reviewed scientific journal that publishes original articles, critical reviews, case reports, and short communications on food science. Articles are released monthly online, with unlimited free access. Currently, Foods has been indexed by the Science Citation Index Expanded (SCIE - Web of Science), PubMed, and Scopus. Our aim is to encourage scientists, researchers, and other food professionals to publish their experimental and theoretical results as much detail as possible. We therefore invite you to be one of our authors, and in doing so share your important research findings with the global food science community.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, FSTA, AGRIS, PubAg, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Food Science and Technology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Health Professions (miscellaneous))

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 14.9 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.6 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
