Latest Advances in Fermentation Microorganisms in the Food Field

Message from the Guest Editors

In this Special Issue, it is a pleasure to invite all interested researchers dedicated to the study of microorganisms (traditional or novel) responsible for fermentation to obtain different foods or beverages, the analysis of their functional properties and nutraceutical compounds, and the revalorization of food waste to contribute to this Special Issue. Potential topics include, but are not limited to, the following:

- fermentation microorganisms
- fermented foods and beverages
- fermented functional foods
- nutraceuticals from fermented foods
- bioactive molecules in fermented food
- revalorization of food wastes and by-products
- prebiotics and probiotics studies

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Foods (ISSN 2304-8158) is an open access and peer reviewed scientific journal that publishes original articles, critical reviews, case reports, and short communications on food science. Articles are released monthly online, with unlimited free access. Currently, Foods has been indexed by the Science Citation Index Expanded (SCIE - Web of Science), PubMed, and Scopus. Our aim is to encourage scientists, researchers, and other food professionals to publish their experimental and theoretical results as much detail as possible. We therefore invite you to be one of our authors, and in doing so share your important research findings with the global food science community.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, FSTA, AGRIS, PubAg, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Food Science and Technology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Health Professions (miscellaneous))

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 14.9 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.6 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
