Development and Application of Analytical Strategies to Characterize Food Quality and Safety of Novel Food Products

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue seeks contributions that explore analytical strategies that address these emerging challenges. Potential topics of interest include, but are not limited to, the following:

- The characterization of novel food products, including the detection and quantification of both nutritional and potentially harmful compounds.
- Analytical approaches for evaluating emulsifiers used in encapsulation technologies.
- Strategies for the accurate determination of encapsulated bioactive compounds.
- Techniques to enhance the bioavailability of nutritional components in novel foods.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Foods (ISSN 2304-8158) is an open access and peer reviewed scientific journal that publishes original articles, critical reviews, case reports, and short communications on food science. Articles are released monthly online, with unlimited free access. Currently, Foods has been indexed by the Science Citation Index Expanded (SCIE - Web of Science), PubMed, and Scopus. Our aim is to encourage scientists, researchers, and other food professionals to publish their experimental and theoretical results as much detail as possible. We therefore invite you to be one of our authors, and in doing so share your important research findings with the global food science community.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, FSTA, AGRIS, PubAg, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Food Science and Technology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Health Professions (miscellaneous))

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 14.9 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.6 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
