

Special Issue

Open Innovation in Meat and Meat Products

Message from the Guest Editors

The Incarlopsa-UCLM Open Innovation Chair has been created to promote research and transfer activities, so as to boost scientific training and diffusion as well. From a wide perspective within this Project framework, this Special Issue of Foods has dealt with open innovation research and techniques in meat industry and meat products. For this purpose, this Chair has always considered two main aspects—these being: First, the nutritional and healthy property enhancement of fresh meat and ham. Second, new products and marketing strategies, as well as new formats and research opportunities, that are being implemented throughout different business activities. Therefore, we are pleased to invite our colleagues, all researchers and faculty members to contribute papers to this relevant publication on open innovation in the meat industry and throughout all different meat products.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Foods (ISSN 2304-8158) is an open access and peer reviewed scientific journal that publishes original articles, critical reviews, case reports, and short communications on food science. Articles are released monthly online, with unlimited free access. Currently, Foods has been indexed by the Science Citation Index Expanded (SCIE - Web of Science), PubMed, and Scopus. Our aim is to encourage scientists, researchers, and other food professionals to publish their experimental and theoretical results as much detail as possible. We therefore invite you to be one of our authors, and in doing so share your important research findings with the global food science community.
