Next-Generation Oil Processing Technologies: From Quality Control to Functionality Enhancement

Message from the Guest Editors

Edible oils are an essential part of our lives, and their quality control and functionality enhancement are crucial. In recent years, the deterioration of quality, safe production, structural optimization, and the functional enhancement of oils have been extensively studied. The submission of papers for this Special Issue is encouraged based on the following areas from the perspective of new technological advances:

- The deterioration of quality and increase in hazards;
- The safe production of edible oil;
- Structural optimization processing technology;
- The functional enhancement of structured lipids.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Foods (ISSN 2304-8158) is an open access and peer reviewed scientific journal that publishes original articles, critical reviews, case reports, and short communications on food science. Articles are released monthly online, with unlimited free access. Currently, Foods has been indexed by the Science Citation Index Expanded (SCIE - Web of Science), PubMed, and Scopus. Our aim is to encourage scientists, researchers, and other food professionals to publish their experimental and theoretical results as much detail as possible. We therefore invite you to be one of our authors, and in doing so share your important research findings with the global food science community.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, FSTA, AGRIS, PubAg, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Food Science and Technology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Health Professions (miscellaneous))

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 14.9 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.6 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
