Message from the Guest Editors

The aim of this Special Issue is to collect contributions about analysis and forecasting tourism time series before, during, and after the pandemic period. Original research articles and reviews are welcome. Research areas may include (but not limited to) the following:

- Analysis of tourism time series;
- Forecasting of tourism time series using linear and non-linear models;
- Univariate and multivariate models;
- Statistical, machine learning, and hybrid models;
- Limitations and possibilities of forecasting in the light of the COVID-19 pandemic;
- Scenario forecasting;
- Point, interval, and density forecasting;
- Big data as leading indicators in the COVID-19 pandemic;
- Forecast combination;
- Directional change accuracy;
- Ex-ante tourism demand forecasting;
- Forecasting for single attractions, tourism segments, the sharing economy, etc.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The new open access journal Forecasting provides an interdisciplinary forum for all aspects related to the immensely broad field of time series analysis and forecasting. The range of applications in forecasting is enormous, from energy forecasting or economic analysis of stock indices prediction, climate forecasting, chemical or natural process forecasting, etc. It is the aim of the journal to publish relevant topical contributions for the scientific community of forecasting in a timely manner. We would like to invite you to contribute to the journal by sending us your high quality research papers and would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.

Author Benefits

Open Access:— free for readers, with article processing charges \(APC\) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within ESCI \(Web of Science\), AGRIS, EconBiz, RePEc, and many other databases.

Rapid Publication: manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision provided to authors approximately 16.2 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 4.3 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2021).
