

Special Issue

Planted Forests: A Path towards Sustainable Development

Message from the Guest Editor

The Special Issue aims to present current research on planted forests, including all of the diverse topics that might be connected with the establishment and/or management of planted forests and/or the direct goods and services provided by them. In this respect, the potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Timber production;
- Non-timber product production;
- Ecosystem services;
- Land tenure and social issues;
- Financial analysis;
- Agroforestry systems;
- Silviculture and management practices;
- Remote sensing;
- Environmental concerns and risks.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Forests (ISSN 1999-4907) is an international and cross-disciplinary, scholarly forestry journal. The distinguished editorial board and refereeing process ensures the highest degree of scientific rigor and review of all published articles. Original research articles and timely reviews are released online, with unlimited free access. Our goal is to have Forests be recognized as one of the foremost publication outlets for high quality, leading edge research in this broad and diverse field. We therefore invite you to be one of our authors, and in doing so share your important research findings with the global forestry community.

Editor-in-Chief
