Cryosphere Information Engraved in Tree Rings

Message from the Guest Editor

The Special Issue will feature diverse and cutting-edge research from various disciplines and regions and show how tree-ring data can be integrated with other sources of information (such as remote sensing and modeling) to provide a holistic picture of the cryospheric system. We invite submissions of original research articles, review articles (including bibliometrics), and perspectives that address any aspect of tree-ring research related to the cryosphere. We especially encourage submissions that explore the interaction of multi-circles, new topics, methods, or perspectives in tree-ring and cryospheric research, or that bridge gaps between different disciplines or regions.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Forests (ISSN 1999-4907) is an international and cross-disciplinary, scholarly forestry journal. The distinguished editorial board and refereeing process ensures the highest degree of scientific rigor and review of all published articles. Original research articles and timely reviews are released online, with unlimited free access. Our goal is to have Forests be recognized as one of the foremost publication outlets for high quality, leading edge research in this broad and diverse field. We therefore invite you to be one of our authors, and in doing so share your important research findings with the global forestry community.
