Distribution Dynamics of Nutrients and Trace Elements in Forest Soil

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue aims to build a communication platform for monitoring and simulation of nutrient distribution and dynamics in forest ecosystems, and to analyze the relationships between trace elements and organic matter content in forest soils. We welcome manuscripts on the following topics, including but not limited to:

Accumulation of organic matter and trace elements in forest soil;

Forest soil nutrient distribution;

The cycle process of various nutrient elements in forest soil;

Characteristics and balance of soil nutrients in different forests, etc.

A better understanding of the soil nutrient cycle is considered a scientific basis for rational utilization of land resources and management of forest soil nutrient content and as well as forest soil fertility.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Forests (ISSN 1999-4907) is an international and cross-disciplinary, scholarly forestry journal. The distinguished editorial board and refereeing process ensures the highest degree of scientific rigor and review of all published articles. Original research articles and timely reviews are released online, with unlimited free access. Our goal is to have Forests be recognized as one of the foremost publication outlets for high quality, leading edge research in this broad and diverse field. We therefore invite you to be one of our authors, and in doing so share your important research findings with the global forestry community.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Ei Compendex, GEOBASE, PubAg, AGRIS, PaperChem, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Forestry) / CiteScore - Q1 (Forestry)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 17.1 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.4 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
