Special Issue

Trees, Pollen and Allergies in Urban Areas

Message from the Guest Editor

In this Special Issue, we invite works related to the inventory of urban trees and vegetation, pollen studies, and greenspace allergenic potential assessment, as well as methodological and management proposals for both urban trees and green spaces from a sustainability and health point of view. Works that use GIS methods or other methods that explain the spatial distribution of urban pollen and identify allergenic pollen sources or develop models to forecast pollen concentrations in urban areas will also be welcome.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Forests (ISSN 1999-4907) is an international and cross-disciplinary, scholarly forestry journal. The distinguished editorial board and refereeing process ensures the highest degree of scientific rigor and review of all published articles. Original research articles and timely reviews are released online, with unlimited free access. Our goal is to have Forests be recognized as one of the foremost publication outlets for high quality, leading edge research in this broad and diverse field. We therefore invite you to be one of our authors, and in doing so share your important research findings with the global forestry community.
