Special Issue

Cybersecurity and Cybercrime in the Age of Social Media

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to share research which has examined various aspects of overlap between cybersecurity and cybercrime in relation to social media. The papers can explore the negative impacts, of which there are many, or indeed positive outcomes where research conducted via social media has enabled greater awareness and protection of individuals. Please note that all submissions should fit the primary scope of Future Internet, which includes next-generation networking, related technologies, and associated applications. Keywords:

- cybersecurity;
- cybercrime;
- social media;
- social engineering;
- artificial intelligence;
- machine learning;
- big data;
- human factors;
- attack scenarios;
- behavioral analytics

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Future Internet is a fast-growing journal devoted to rapid publications of the latest results in the general areas of computer networking/communications and information systems, with a focus on the Internet of Things, big data and augmented intelligence, smart systems (in terms of technologies, architectures, and applications), network virtualization, edge/fog computing, and cybersecurity. Both theoretical and experimental papers are welcome. Every year, Future Internet also features Special Issues dedicated to specific topics within the journal's scope.
